CLASS OF 1964

50 YEAR REUNION MEMORY BOOK

Letter from the Alumni Director

On behalf of Gonzaga University –Welcome back! We are delighted to have you back on campus to celebrate your Reunion. It is our hope that you are able to reconnect with your classmates and rekindle some of the fond memories you had while attending Gonzaga.

The Alumni Staff and Reunion Volunteers have enjoyed planning this weekend for you and if there is anything we can do to make your return to campus more memorable, please do not hesitate to ask.

This year marks a Golden Moment in history as your friends in the Alumni Office welcome you to the ranks of Gonzaga's distinguished Gold Club Alumni. On behalf of my colleagues here at Gonzaga, congratulations on this monumental milestone—we are proud to recognize you and your classmates on this 50-year graduation anniversary!

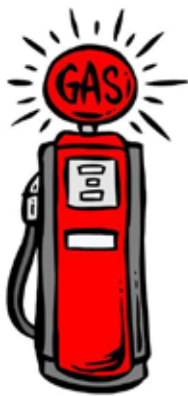

Welcome to Gonzaga's Gold Club! It is a great time to be a Zag!

Sincerely,

Bob Finn, '88
Gonzaga University's Alumni Director

Freshman team finds the going a little sticky in the tug-of-war against the sophomores. True to tradition, the sophomores won all but two events to outscore the frosh 115-35. Student enthusiasm and cooperation were rated as key factors in making Campus Days a big success.

Mike Manning and Gail Martin aren't saying good-night in broad daylight--they're using the bearhug technique to negotiate the Campus Days' three-legged race course.

Campus Days

Freshmen speedsters (7) outthrust sophomores in cross-country bed transport.

Jennie-wearing footballers plan conspiracy 'neath the Ferris Wheel.

Frosh

Mayhem reigns as Mike Hamilton is about to eat his pie by the flannel.

Molly Cahill approves Jim Leontz's selection as king of the pie eaters.

A tug-of-war? Sounds great... What's this about a pit in the middle?

Collegiate-Set Music

Former Gonzagan Chad Mitchell (center) returned to perform for the university January 22. He's flanked by Mike Kabluk (left) and Joe Frazier.

Las Vegas Days Converts COG To Casino

Joe Arneson looks more like a "fun artist" than a college student (above, center) as he plays Chris Bulger's hand. Later that evening (below) he acts as liaison man for dealer Dan Brunner and player Bill Kirkpatrick.

Worrying that the customers might break the bank are cashier Bill Heme, and his helpers, Emma DeJolie and Pat Maloney of the SPURS.

ENTERTAINMENT

On Campus

The Caldwell sisters--Shirley (left) and Gail--sing for the Mardi Gras crowd as accompanist Mike Meighan sits close by.

Mike Meighan and his guitar entertains a group of students in the Cave.

Cave-dwellers sing along with the music during an evening Hootenanny.

Gonzagans crowd into the Cave for some relaxation and socializing on a typical evening during the week.

Learn Zag Spirit

Initiation Tactics Well Received By Newcomers

Sophomores lend John Downs, frosh president pro-tem, a helping hand to the girls' dorm.

The play begins as the sophomores move the football closer to their 13-0 victory over the freshmen.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

Madonna Hall

We spent our Freshman & Sophomore years in Madonna Hall looking forward to moving off campus for our last two years only to learn they were building another girl's dorm. They assigned all Junior & Senior girls to Madonna Hall and we were not allowed to move off campus. We spent all 4 years in the same dorm and as a result left college with a lot of close women friends, friends for life!

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

How important friendships are to carry you through all of the challenges that life will bring.

Life's highlights since graduation:

I ended up teaching 1st through 5th grades in 4 different states; California, Oregon, Texas, & Washington. I was married for 19 years to my first husband, Jim Monce, and we had 2 children, Rick & Martha. Jim died when he was 46, I was 43, and our children were 10 & 6. I was so thankful for my Gonzaga education because I was able to teach and support my 2 children while being on their same schedule.

I married Jerry Albrich in 1989 and inherited 3 more children and now have 6 grandchildren through his wonderful addition to our family. We will celebrate our 25th Wedding Anniversary in July.

I learned how to play golf when I was growing up in The Dalles and took it back up after I married Jerry and was able to "retire" and stay at home. I have been very involved, in fact, I am the President of the Oregon Women's Golf Association this year. It is an organization that was started for amateur women golfer in 1926. We have done a lot of traveling but my favorite travel is to the Oregon Beach for a week every August with our 5 children, their spouses, and 6 grandchildren.

"Life is Good" other than the fact that I am getting older and uglier with each year.

I think most of us look back at our Gonzaga years with great fondness, Many of the friendships we make are still intact. My son attended GU and stayed in the same dorm as I did (only it seemed to be packed with much more stuff). It is sad that the cost of a college education has risen so much. Most of us were able to pay our own way through school with not too much debt. That is very hard to do now.

Life's highlights since graduation:

After graduating from Gonzaga, I entered the Maryknoll Seminary and finished a degree in Philosophy in Chicago. During the Noviciate a year in Hingham Mass , I came to the conclusion that the Celebacy thing was way overrated so left and went back to teaching.

One of the highlights of my teaching carrer was the time spent teaching Aboriginal kids in outbasck Australia. Retirement is good. Volunteer projects keep me busy and engaged. Like most of us when looking back over the time since our Gonzaga years, One wonders " Where has all the time gone."

Life's highlights since graduation:

I attended the Univ. of Mt. Law school for 1 year where I met Retta Greenup. we were married and operated the family farm west of Great Falls, Mt. We had three great kids and I managed to serve in the Montana Legislature for 14 years while continuing to farm.

In 1985 Governor Schwinden asked me to be Director of the Department of Natural Resources, which I did for four years. Subsequently, I continued to operate the farm and lobby for various groups at the legislature. During that time our kids finished college, married and started families of their own.

In 1997, then Attorney General Joe Mazurek asked me to become his Deputy Director, Chief of Staff at the Department of Justice. I served in that position for thirteen years and for two additional Attorneys General.

Retta retired from teaching in 2008 and I retired in 2010. Subsequent to that we sold the family farm and now divide our time between Helena (where we live eight months of the year), Spokane (where all our kids and grandkids reside) and Phoenix, AZ. (where we enjoy the warm weather, golf, hiking and other amenities it has to offer).

It's been a full, interesting and rewarding life and the grandkids are really keeping it going.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

Those of us who lived off campus may have missed out on a lot of community building. But meeting in the COG helped. Sandy Perkins, Sharon Willford, Pete Ewell, Larry Marshall and the carpool, Jimmy Catarina, Dean----- all the drama dancers and singers made GU a wonderful place to be. Franz Schneider, Fathers Hanna, Leary, Neil Mc Clusky, Conwell, Vashon, Dorothy Darby Smith were very favorite teachers.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

I learned that I could be an effective leader, and teacher, and mentor. I experienced "intellectual thrills" when my classes in theology and philosophy came together. Succeeding at GU gave me the confidence to move out into the "adult" world and approach challenges with insight and innovation.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

Coming from a small town in Idaho, my classes, especial those in history, philosophy and theology, opened up new interests and ways of thinking. Two of my favorite professors were Fr. William Bischoff (history) and Valentin Herzog (Russian). My favorite place to study was down in the stacks of the library. I loved the noon masses. I also loved the cafeteria meals & the walk on snowy nights to watch our hockey games.

I had the best roommate for two years, Lucy Hould. During my last two years I was a dorm prefect in the "new" St. Monica dorm. Special friends were Kathie Bauer, Mary Ann Broz, Carol Desmarais, Mary Rumelhart, Janice Anderson, Carole Toboni, Mary Jean Witmeyer, Marty Wells, Margel Foote among others.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

Although I complete my required courses in education, I had no intention of teaching and did not even apply for a teaching job after graduation. Nevertheless, my first job was as the history and foreign language teacher in the Priest River, ID, high school, taking the place of a former teacher in late September. That began my 47 year career as a high school teacher and administrator and I loved every minute of it. I put into practice in my classes and later school-wide the philosophy and techniques of Fr. Bischoff with an emphasis on student research, writing and analysis. Another favorite memory: after we prefects had conducted the "bed checks" on Saturday, one of the priests would come over and say a 1 AM mass for the 6 of us as girls we stood around the make-shift altar in the dorm. It was very special and ahead of its time. Thanks Jesuits!

Life's highlights since graduation:

In 1966 I married Bill Gaines (1939-1998) and our two boys were born in '67 and '68. Our boys attended Catholic elementary and high schools and completed their college degrees. Bill and I always said how fortunate we were to have such loving, supportive children. I now also have two delightful granddaughters. I travel frequently to spend time with all of them. Two years ago, I retired and moved to Lewiston, ID where I enjoy family life with my sister (Sacred Heart School of Nursing, 1959) and her family. I have recently begun to indulge my life-long love of travel (sans high school students). I also volunteer to teach the AARP Driver Safety course, help coach the local FLL robotics team and do some hiking.

In 1965, I traveled to Guadalajara, Mexico, for a summer GU program with Kathie Bauer, taking the bus from Spokane. I then taught from 1965-2012 in Sacramento, My GU friend, Margel, was instrumental in my move to the all girls' St. Francis High School in 1968 where I served in several roles over the years: history and gov't teacher, department chair, vice-principal, principal and lastly, Director of Special Projects. I also led several student college and sightseeing trips to the East Coast and Europe. Our school became recognized as a Northern California leader in academics, sports, the arts and service to others. During those years, our student body tripled in size to over 1100 students and the school facilities doubled in size. We extended our reach to sister schools in Japan and in Ghana. My philosophy was always to create a strong faculty/staff community which in turn built a strong student/parent community. I can honestly say in spite of long hours and few vacations, I've never gone to work a day in my life. It was just too rewarding and fun. I credit my experience at GU for much of that.

Left Gonzaga to teach in Anchorage, Alaska. WOW! lived there for almost 25 years. Loved it!

Married in 1970, had two sons and retired in 1987. Since my sons were born in Alaska they had skates on and wore them through college, pros, and now in rec leagues. After Alaska retirement I returned to Spokane with my family in tow. I continued teaching at Regal Elementary and retired almost 20 years later. Am now enjoying the fact that every day is Saturday. My greatest achievement was surviving all the cold hockey rinks. And I never "pit bulled" anyone. At least that I can remember. Must have been the lipstick I was wearing.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

I lived in Spokane, a graduate of Holy Names Academy, so i was "a day student." I had been a drama student of Dorothy Darby Smith in High School and quite naturally continued with her at Gonzaga. She was a mentor and drama was my first love. However, I was also part of a very privileged group of students who were the beginnings of the Gonzaga in Florence saga. THAT was my lifetime's most fabulous experience. Friends I made that year and the ability I acquired to meet new challenges head on has remained with me solid these past 50 years. My sister and I have very proud "first" to brag about. She was in the first class to graduate with girls. I was in the first year of GIF. I thank Gonzaga for giving me what i needed to be successful.

Living in Madonna Hall allowed me to make lifelong friends. My roommate and I were one of only two pairs to room together all four years.

Being one of the first women to major in mathematics was challenging. I took classes with engineering majors and was left on my own to puzzle out much of the material. I recall trudging across the snowy field in the afternoon to complete my final mathematics class to complete my major. Fr. Murray was instrumental in getting me through.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

I learned to recognize and to value the special gifts in everyone I meet. This was especially helpful in my career as a teacher of mathematics. I emphasized to students who were not talented in mathematics that they had talents in other areas. I also worked with colleagues throughout the Sacramento area to develop curricula to target students who are visual and tactile learners.

Both my husband and I were recruited by our school district because of our Jesuit training with emphases on education of the whole person.

Life's highlights since graduation:

My husband and I travel extensively. Highlights of our travel include accompanying the Sacramento Symphonic Band on a cultural tour of China, travelling in a small group throughout southern Africa and a six-week trip throughout Italy with my college roommate. We now find European river cruises a fit for our changing needs. Our daughter has brought us much joy. She lived in Paris for 5 years; which gave us a starting point for many travels. She met and married her husband in Paris. Lotfi is Muslim and grew up in Algeria. They live in Sacramento and provide great support.

We have been involved in service activities over the years; including feeding the hungry, coordinating weddings, serving on boards, and facilitating support groups.

Degree:

B.A.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

I was a Jesuit scholastic “exiled” from the Missouri Province to study philosophy at Mount St. Michael’s, and loved it; both Mount St. Michael’s and the French classes I took on the Gonzaga campus. In 1962-65 Spokane reminded me of a smaller version of Denver where I grew up. The philosophy teachers were very good; a solid background for a Jesuit priest, and living up on the hill with 125 other Jesuits was enriching. I know many of the Jesuits of the Oregon Province who have worked at Gonzaga U. and continue to have a warm spot in my heart for Gonzaga U.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you’ve carried with you throughout your life:

At Mount St. Michael’s we had a thorough grounding in philosophy of St. Thomas Aquinas. While I know his insights are not the only way to view the world, they are a very good way. I used this background when earning my master’s degree in French at McGill University in Montreal. The professors were impressed when I used these philosophical insights as background or underpinning to my arguments in my term papers in literature classes.

Life’s highlights since graduation:

After finishing theology studies at Saint Louis University and being ordained a priest in Denver, my assignments as a Jesuit have been many. For eighteen years I taught French and theology at St. Louis University High School. This was followed by a well-deserved sabbatical and three years as the minister of the Jesuit community at the Jesuit School of Theology in Berkeley, CA. Six years in province administration in St. Louis and eight years as the director of the Sacred Heart Jesuit Retreat House in Sedalia, CO, and five years as the vocation director. I loved directing people in retreats based on the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius Loyola, and guiding the vocation of young men into the Society of Jesus. We are always praying for more religious vocations. Since September 2012 I have been the pastor of St. Peter Claver Parish in Punta Gorda, Belize. Belize is a beautiful, semi-tropical country in Central America; ethnically very mixed, very poor, but with warm welcome to all.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

I was the only one from my high school in San Francisco to come to Gonzaga, but once I got to Madonna Hall, I had many wonderful new friends. Many of us also enjoyed sitting around the lower COG singing along with Mike Hemp as he played guitar - we were the folk song generation. A highlight of Freshman Year was participating in the production of "Oklahoma". This "city girl" drank in all the new experiences - hockey games at the Colliseum, keggers in the woods, hours whiled away playing bridge, visits to friends' homes in Seattle and Butte, Montana! Among my favorite teachers were Bill Costello, SJ who taught me how to write clearly and Franz Schneider whose class in Epic Poetry was amazing. Fr. Joe Conwell was a wonderful spiritual presence for those of us who went to Florence in '63-'64.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

Deciding to attend Gonzaga, far from my home, was one of the decisions that helped shape my life. I had to make choices and live by them; I met people from different backgrounds with different points of view and . . . with the Jesuits, I "grew up" in my faith and learned that it was ok to question and challenge and have some of my own ideas. I learned that WE are the Church. Living through this "initiation" at GU, I was well equipped to embrace and welcome the changes brought on by Vatican II, taking place in Rome while I was studying in Florence.

Some of my life-long friends are those who shared my experiences in living in Madonna Hall for three years and also that special group that became the first to attend Gonzaga in Florence.

Life's highlights since graduation:

After graduation I taught High School in San Jose, CA, but thanks in part to a classmate, Rosemary Menzia Rief, who was then living in Sacramento, I met Pat McIntosh who would become my husband and the love of my life on July 9th, 1966. Together we raised four wonderful children who have brought us 6 grandchildren. We lived and thrived in St. Ignatius Parish in Sacramento where our children also went to school; after teaching for 3 years, I enjoyed staying home with them, volunteering at school and sometimes playing tennis. We both were active in parish and school life: school board, fund raising chairs, adult religious education; there we worked with many who would become our life-long friends. In the early 1980's when our kids were all in school, I got my real estate appraiser's license and later my SRA designation with The Appraisal Institute. I ran my own residential appraisal business for almost 20 years and loved the autonomy and freedom. In 1978 we took our kids around the country in a motorhome and made some great memories; in 2006, Pat and I both "retired", sold our family home, bought a sailboat, and headed for Mexico. We cruised the west coast of Mexico for 2 years and had some amazing adventures and met wonderful people who shared our spirit and joy in this lifestyle. We attended the 50 yr reunion of my class from GU in Florence this past October, in Florence; we also visited Normandy, the Czech Republic, and my relatives in the north of Italy. We love travel and have other trips on the horizon, intending to go while we are able. Much of our life is also spent visiting our children and grandchildren in Portland, Albuquerque and our son and family who live nearby. Pat and I are truly blessed and are grateful for our lives together.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

I loved everything about my time at Gonzaga. It was a small enough college that the teachers knew you by name. I enjoyed working in the cog from 6 to 8 a.m. as "the juice girl." I knew my friends would be asleep and I wouldn't be missing out on anything important. I loved dorm life in Madonna Hall, in spite of Mrs. L. We were always playing pranks on her and each other like flooding the rooms, removing medicine cabinets, helping each other sneak in or out, smuggling in contraband. I remember one incident in particular when Patsy put a dog-fish shark from her science lab in Rita's bed which of course freaked out that red-head. We really loved our third floor prefect, Rosemary, who kept the lid on with her sense of humor. So many friends; some inspiring teachers; a focus on the future; lovely memories.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

Mrs Brophy's parting words to us who were aspiring teachers was to be the best and become Master Teachers who mentor the next generation. I took that as a personal challenge and a goal.

Life's highlights since graduation:

Over a 34 year span, I taught grades first through eighth. When I started getting students whose moms or dads I had taught, I knew it was time to retire. As my grandchildren have come along, I have enjoyed working in their classrooms, going on field trips and cheering for their sports. My love of sports started at Gonzaga and has continued to this day. I try to make it to at least one Gonzaga men's basketball game each year when they come to the Bay Area or Stockton.

I went to Discipleship Training School with YWAM (Youth With A Mission) in 1998 in Kona, HI. Since then I've combined my love of travel by going to places where I can practice "peacecorps evangelism." In other words, help as needed and share Christ's love. I have a particular heart for Muslim women and plan to go back to Jordan this year. When I'm home, you will find me cooking in the church kitchen; teaching Sunday School; playing bridge; golfing; and, most importantly, spending time with my son and daughter's families. Occasionally, our Sacramento Gonzaga family gets together for lunch. We love to reminisce and catch up with each other. If you're ever in Sacramento, look us up, and join us.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

I absolutely loved my freshman and sophomore years at GU. One of my favorite things was being in charge of our sophomore class booth for Campus Days. It was built like a radio and we broadcasted KZAG from it all over the campus.

I enjoyed the sing-alongs we had early on and enjoyed participating in two of the St. Patrick's Day shows on campus. I loved the COG and the dances we had there. I remember being so nervous asking a girl out on a date when I was a freshman. I cherish the wonderful relationships I share with many of those in my class. I always look forward to our reunions.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

As a result of my experience at GU, I not only gained the tools to make a living but, better yet, how to live. GU did much to enhance my faith in God. I am so thankful I had the Jesuit experience at both Jesuit High in Portland and Gonzaga. I attribute much of the good life I have had as well as learning to help others through my experiences at both schools.

Life's highlights since graduation:

Although I am ever so thankful for my life and learning at Gonzaga, it wasn't until I overcame a serious life-threatening battle with alcohol and prescription drugs that I really began to grow and put to use much that I have learned. My focus became less about me and more about others. In addition to the many friends I have made since GU, I have been fortunate to have enhanced my relationship with many of my GU classmates. I feel much closer to them now than I did in school.

Once alcohol was removed from my life, it blossomed..... but not without some effort on my part. I returned to school and received my Masters in System Management from USC. My career took off and I retired from Boeing in 2005 after a successful career as an Information and Systems Technology Manager. Although I was extensively involved in developing data warehouses and generating management reports from them, my pride and joy was designing and implementing a comprehensive on-line and part tracing reporting system which, when given a part from any location on a satellite or in inventory, instantly traces it back to its original build at Boeing or original procurement data, doing in seconds what once took teams of people weeks or months to accomplish.

I met and married my wife Pat in 1971 and we were blessed with our daughter Eileen two years later. Pat is a retired teacher who spends her time volunteering and focusing on her art. I also do volunteer work with several organizations but find time to be a member of a quartet singing the folk songs of the 50s and 60s.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

Mostly many many hours of study. Living at home to save money for graduate education I missed many aspects of campus life. Still I had many friends and we participated in many fun activities. Tom Pautler and I studied together and usually got a late evening pizza at Shakey's. GU basketball was then and still is a must. Since I had a good hunting dog my friends and I frequently went bird hunting in the fall and fishing at our Newman Lake home in spring. Considerable waterskiing could be done in the summer. I took Quantitative Analysis in the summer semester and Dr. Thompson lived across the lake which was very handy when I needed help. Winter sports consisted of a lot of snowskiing. Father Tim O'leary, Dr. Marilyn Stanton, Dr. Stough were memorable professors and certainly taught me much of the preparation I needed in later life.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

Jesuit education at Gonzaga Prep and Gonzaga University was vital in preparing me for Medical school at the University of Washington and the ensuing years of medical practice. At Gonzaga I learned the ethical, moral, and spiritual foundations of life which I needed to pursue the practice of medicine, to raise children, and to be a husband to my wife for 45 years. Elaine as a graduate of the Sacred Heart School of Nursing received many credits from GU. Our children have Gonzaga degrees Dan in chemistry now an ER doc and Laurie and her husband Jesse in Civil Engineering. Gonzaga has had a profound effect on our lives and I thank God for this every year when I attend the Novena of Grace on campus.

Life's highlights since graduation:

Following graduation I attended the U of W medical school graduating in 1968 I did an internship at Sacred Heart Hospital. There I met a young nurse who I married in 1969. Probably the smartest thing I ever did. Vietnam followed that. As a medical officer I was assigned to DESRON5 DESDIV52 USN and toured the Western Pacific spending considerable time off Hanoi on the USS King. Following that we lived in San Diego and Bremerton where our son was born. Next a Family Practice residency in Spokane followed by about 25 years working at the Spokane VAMC. Our daughter was born during those years. Physician wise I was an Associate Chief of Staff for ambulatory care, a clinical Professor for the U of W, and worked closely with the Ex Pows. The latter interest started because of Col. Sam Grashio an Ex POW and an old family friend of my parents who at one time lived near GU and owned the University Pharmacy. Sam in later years was involved with GU ROTC. Nationally involved with POWs was in many ways the most rewarding part of my medical years. Following retirement I continued to practice medicine as a fill in at the VAMC reviewing charts for WA state DDS and doing military entrance exams at the Spokane MEPS. Hardly retired at age 72. Hobbies include fishing much of the time in Montana where we have a fishing cabin on FT Peck Lake. Wife from Mt. We have traveled extensively about the world. We have enjoyed watersports, snow sports, boating, kids, grandchild, and eating as Elaine is a gourmet cook. Also cared for elderly parents which is a challenge. Thank God every day for a great life.

Hockey took a lot of my time but I loved it and the trips were a good break. St. Patrick's Day keg parties were so wild I don't know how we avoided any serious physical accidents.

Life's highlights since graduation:

After graduating a semester later than most in the 1963 class I worked for an Electrical Consulting Engineer in Vancouver designing electrical systems for commercial buildings. There I renewed my relationship with Jeanette and we married in 1965 in Rossland BC. We moved with our 6 month old son to Prince George in northern BC in 1966 where I started with BChydro designing power distribution systems and training for effective use of electricity in the Northern Region. In 1977 we transferred with our 3 kids to Abbotsford where I was their first District Engineer. The job and location changed a few times until I was returned to the Abbotsford as the Region's Service & Design Manager. I got an early retirement in 1997 and love it. We have travelled about a month most years since so we have seen a lot of the world. The grankids are still a big focus but they are growing too fast. I survived prostate cancer surgery and radiation in 1992 and Jeanette had the same treatment for breast cancer last year. Of all the surgeries I've had, it's my mind I miss the most.

I had a career in the railroad industry in middle management. I started with the Great Northern in Spokane as a brakeman in the summer of 1965. After graduating from Ohio State with an MBA in March 1967 I joined Great Northern full time in their St Paul, MN headquarters. That lasted until June 1967 when I was drafted into the Army. I spent one year in Vietnam most of the time in an artillery battalion on the Demilitarized Zone.

After I returned to the Great Northern I spent time in Seattle on a management training program before transferring back to GN headquarters in St. Paul. In 1970 GN merged with two other railroads and became Burlington Northern.

In 1972 I married Elizabeth Davy who worked for General Mills in Minneapolis.

In 1984 BN moved its corporate headquarters from St. Paul to Fort Worth, TX. And in 1995 BN merged with the Santa Fe Railway and became BNSF Railway. I retired in 1999. Working in the railroad industry was both interesting and fun.

My wife and I have traveled extensively over the last 42 years. We have visited 71 countries on every continent in addition to every state.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

I recall my years at Gonzaga as something of a blur. I was working my way through school and carrying a fairly heavy class load so it seemed that nearly every spare moment was filled with some activity. I rather envied the students who had more time to savor the college experience. However I do recall fondly my two years in the Loyola Guard and the friends I made there. Also my freshman year, I had a small part in the play "Oklahoma" and the experience and the people I met left very pleasant memories.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

I felt I received an excellent liberal education at both Gonzaga U. and Gonzaga Prep which was an invaluable aide to me in my later career and life. The importance of looking at an issue from many aspects (the big picture) was very helpful. Also the ability to write clearly and effectively was a particularly valuable skill which Gonzaga taught.

Life's highlights since graduation:

After graduation and a year at WSU in graduate school, I took and passed the Foreign Service exam of the U.S. State Dept. I entered the Foreign Service in October 1965 and spent the next 28 years serving in various American embassies overseas. Most of my tours were in Africa but I also served in Italy and Jamaica. I also worked in several positions in the Dept in Washington, DC, mostly related to African affairs.

The majority of my Foreign Service work was as an economic officer. While I was a history major, the Foreign Service Institute has an excellent course which compresses a major in economics into eight months. In the later part of my career, I also served as Deputy Chief of Mission in an African Embassy and an Office Director in the Department.

In 1966, I married Mary MacFarlane (now Hammond-Tooke), who I had met at Gonzaga, and who is also a GU graduate. We had four children from that marriage and eventually 11 grandchildren. Unfortunately, the marriage ended in divorce in 1986.

I retired from the Foreign Service at the end of 1993. In 1995, I went back to work for the Dept of State in its declassification program. This is a special category position which limits one to half-time work. As I have gotten older, the parttime aspect has become more agreeable, and I am still doing this work.

Re hobbies, I was able to get back into skiing after 1993 and enjoyed many years on a variety of slopes until the body decided enough a couple years ago. I still retain my interest in history and in middle age developed an interest in classical music. Lastly, I have found being a grandfather to 11 grandkids very satisfying.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

Ethical behavior, concept of being skeptical and questioning everything; we are all God's children.

Life's highlights since graduation:

We lived in the San Francisco area for 11 years after graduation. Bank of America moved our family to Singapore in 1976, supposedly for 2 years. We returned to the SF area after 17 years in Asia. I was accidentally hired by Price Waterhouse in Tokyo and ended up working in their US tax departments in Taipei, Kuala Lumpur, and Palo Alto for over 20 years. Our daughters graduated from Taipei American School and then Gonzaga, as did their husbands. Our eldest granddaughter will attend GU this fall. We're definitely a Gonzaga family.

We retired in 1999 and moved to Las Vegas to enjoy all the outdoor activities. We golf, hike, tent camp, canyoneer, ski, travel and do volunteer work when home.

We're travelling at present and have no access to photos. Being technologically challenged does not help the situation.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

Memories include the dorm life the first two years with friends transitioning to different futures and the weekend parties. Favorite teachers were Dan Brajcich, for his approach to accounting from a practitioner's perspective, and Fr. Ken Baker SJ, for his conservative perspective. I also remember going to hear a presentation by William F Buckley in the Freshman year. This is where I got my initial exposure to the conservative philosophy.

Life's highlights since graduation:

After graduation, I joined Arthur Andersen in the Seattle office audit division, where I was introduced to the business side of healthcare. In 1972, I joined the Sisters of Providence Health System corporate office in Seattle, as controller. I retired in 1999 as VP of Finance. Providence was a great organization driven to service of the poor and elderly by the Mission of the Sisters of Providence. After 3 years of being "snow birds", we moved full time to Arizona in 2008. We miss the summers of the NW, but not the cold and rain of fall, winter and spring. We enjoy golf, reading and some travel.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

Several times I visited Gonzaga University, but I could not find too many friends anymore.

More often I met friends living in Europe or Latin America. Even on some legs of an airline I met passengers who were with me at the Alliance House.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

At Gonzaga I studied mostly journalism with Father Teufel and Joe Gruber. In Switzerland I had worked at newspapers before.

Life's highlights since graduation:

As an Alliance House student I attended Gonzaga in 1963/64. After my schoolyear in Spokane, I continued my studies at the University in Basel, Switzerland and Grenoble, France.

In 1965 I got my licence for gliding. From then on I was in the air as much as possible. So it was no wonder that I joined 1969 after my studies Swissair, the national carrier of Switzerland.

As a programmer and system analyst in the passenger reservation system I worked for Swissair and several airlines all over the world.

In 1977 I got married to Gwei-Hwa in Taipei, Taiwan and in 1979 I built a house in Bachenbuelach, just near the airport of Zuerich.

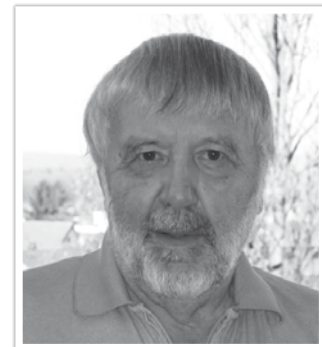

Until the children did not yet attend the school, I took my wife and children with me to Portugal, Brazil, Italy, Israel, Greece. Malaysia and had nice neighbors who looked after the house and the garden. Later on I worked for those airlines with some of my friends or alone.

In 1998 I went into early retirement, but 14 days later I was asked to work again for Swissair.

In the meanwhile I worked also for the Primary School and the kindergartens of our village installing the networks, the PCs and Printers.

Last year I quit this work and enjoy my retirement.

My wife Gwei-Hwa works at the airport's Swissport for Check-In, the handling of handicapped persons and interpreter for the Chinese language.

My memories of life at GU start with Fr. O'Leary knowing everything that went on in DeSmet Hall, study hours, and lights out at 10:30(?). My first two years were in EE and then Dr. Stafford persuaded me to switch to Physics. Probably the professors that had the biggest impact on my life were Fr. MacNiff and Fr. Hanna. Their classes were always followed with another hour of discussion over coffee across the street from the Bulldog. There was the social life revolved around the Montana and Canadian Clubs, following the hockey team, and participating in service project with the Knights. I left GU in 63 for the novitiate in Oregon and graduated from Carroll in 65. From 68-69 I returned to GU for my teaching certification.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

I learned to be objective and to weight all the different factors in thinking, dealing with people and making decisions. This was all part of the total experience at GU.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

The memories of my experiences and the friends I made have provided an oasis of calm that I visit often. Even though I haven't seen many of my classmates for a number of years, they remain close in my heart and are a cherished part of my life.

And Breakfast at Tiffany's is always sustaining...

Life's highlights since graduation:

After college, I moved to California and stayed with Dori Clarke and Jeanne Clem while looking for a job in San Francisco. We had some fine times - all night drive to Tahoe!! SF was great in the 60's - I rode the cable car (15 cents) to work, then there was the Haight, Union Square, Top of the Mark, Ghirardelli Square, Golden Gate Bridge (bicycling across to Sausalito), Santa Cruz Boardwalk... In 1967, I married and moved to Oregon as my husband was attending Medical School. After graduation, we moved back to the Bay Area and I lived on the Peninsula for the next 35 years. Meghan was born in 1968 and Malea in 1972. Joyfully, life has never been the same! We have all stayed in California - Meghan did her undergraduate and graduate work at UC San Diego and Malea graduated from UC Davis. Meghan and her husband Jonathan, live in Santa Barbara with their children, Nathan 12, soccer star, and Audrey Claire 10, aerialist. Malea and her husband, Peter, live in Del Mar, CA with their daughters, Catherine 10, ballerina, Annabel 8, soccer player/gymnast, and Carlin 5, adventurer/explorer. In 2010 I moved to Solana Beach, 5 miles from Del Mar, with my 8lb. chocolate poodle, Paddington. I spend memorable time with all of my grandchildren and treasure being involved in their lives. Having been around for a while, I have indulged in a few careers - being a mother and grandmother, the most rewarding and fulfilling! I earned a teaching certificate and substitute taught for a few years. I also owned a children's gift and clothing store and was an event/trade show planner. For the past few years, my passion has been traveling. I love researching the culture and history of the country I plan to visit and learning, at least minimally, the language. I am going to Italy for 3 1/2 weeks in May. I was looking forward to attend our reunion but when it was changed from May 23 to May 9, I wasn't able to change my travel plans. I am disappointed but will be with you in spirit!

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

So many lifelong friendships were made at GU, most importantly I married my best friend, Jeff Sullivan. My roommate, Rita Baker, will always be the best of the best... so many wonderful memories of our years together. Loved the group of women from Madonna Hall that made everyday a new adventure. Working at the COG was fun, met so many students and enjoyed the socialization. Favorite classes were all the different levels of chemistry and psychology. Always looked forward to the St. Patrick's Day events especially the talent show. Crosby Library was a favorite hang out for Rita & I, not sure how much studying we did there but a great gathering place. My love for Zag basketball started back as a freshman and continues to this day. Hockey games were a blast, I especially enjoyed the Canadian players toughness. Student government was one of my passions, we had some interesting discussions and I believe our efforts made a difference. It was a memorable time in my life!

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

The Jesuit philosophy influences my life to this day.

Life's highlights since graduation:

Married Jeff in 1964, we raised four terrific children who married and gave us eleven amazing grandchildren. My career included, teaching, convention center coordinator, adoption/maternity caseworker and director of Child Care Resource and Referral. Member of various community boards and committees, most of which were dedicated to child welfare issues. Actively involved in Jeff's political campaigns and in those for other candidates. Greatest joy was watching my children in their various school, drama, musical and sporting activities...continues now with my grandchildren.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

Meeting people from different parts of the country and of the world has been the best part of my learning experience. Keep in mind, I grew up in Cody, Wyoming (and we still own a home there). Also, I was able to meet the fetching Patricia Ann during this time of our lives.

Life's highlights since graduation:

Got married in the summer of 1964 to that very same fetching Patricia Ann.

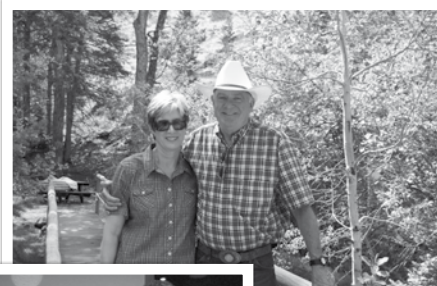

We went to Omaha, Nebraska and enrolled in Dental School at The Creighton University. Patricia taught school and basically supported our little family as we grew (our first two children were born during this time).

In 1969 we went to Southern California and I set up practice near Pasadena. We had two more children and we were off to the races. We have been busy with civic and church activities, tons of youth sports, skiing, golfing, gardening and travel. Where has all the time gone?

At this time we have four children with their respective spouses and a total of ten grandchildren up and down the left coast.

It has been a grand one and I wouldn't have missed a minute of it!

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

50 years ago, Valerie Fryke and I, dressed in suits and high heels, said good-bye to our families in California, and boarded a train to Washington. We cried the first 90 miles. Fortunately, we met a group of students also traveling to Gonzaga, and our sorrow turned into guitar playing and singing. In Spokane, we were greeted by our fellow Ramona Convent High School graduates, Lucy Hould and Sharon May. And so the adventure began. Dining in the Cog, socializing with Margan Haley and the fine women of Madonna Hall, attending basketball games, climbing three flights of stairs to class, studying in the library, living at Loretta Hall with my roommate, Sharon Clifford, walking to downtown Spokane, typing term papers, and, most importantly, meeting a gentleman from Cody, Wyoming, named Jack Thiel.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

The friends Jack and I share are priceless. We grew up together with our campus family. We experienced the vicissitudes of college life, and we survived! Teachers such as Fr. Costello, Mrs. Stanton, Fr. Robinson, Fr. Royce and Fr. Dunne brought the world into the classroom. Mrs. Brophy and my mentor, Beverly Porter, helped me become a teacher. But I must say, the beloved Jesuits of Gonzaga University taught me how to pray every day with the celebration of noon Mass--a reminder that God is always with us. I, in turn, have shared this sacred truth with my children and grandchildren. God has certainly blessed us and for that, I am forever grateful.

Life's highlights since graduation:

Shortly after graduation, Jack and I were married and moved to Nebraska where Jack attended The Creighton University School of Dentistry, and I taught school. Our first two delightful children, Nina and Matt, were born in Omaha. After Jack's graduation, we returned to Pasadena, California, later purchasing a home, and a dental practice. We added two handsome sons to the Thiel Family, John and Nick. We became involved in baseball, soccer, basketball, softball, parish work, football, volleyball, scouts, school boards, Little League, and everything else busy parents do. Our children are all married with families of their own. Jack is retired but our lives are just as hectic as ever. We enjoy traveling up the west coast seeing friends, visiting family, and hugging grandkids. We take great pleasure in the peace of our vacation home in Wyoming. Working with the moms at Good Shepherd Shelter, baking, and gardening are also some of my favorite things to do.

Gonzaga provided an amazing liberal arts experience that formed the basis for our life choices. The earliest, most amazing choice I made, was to be part of that great experiment, Gonzaga-in-Florence. Father McClusky and Father Conwell gave us the opportunity to reach out to all that was exciting and wondrous, and then gave us a place to land when needed. Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

I remember when the bookstore was a hole-in-the-wall on the first floor of the Ad Bldg; cutting classes on St Patty's Day; sneaking into DeSmet with K Grant; smoking in the Bubble; Peter, Paul and Mary in the upper Cog; playing bridge in lower Cog; keggers; Dr Schneider; the greased pig in the elevator at Madonna; Pete the campus cop; my first debate; Purple Bulls; mantillas for noon Mass; Campus Days; Mrs Lavin's teacups; cut-offs; the barstools in Post Falls; no money.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

Gonzaga taught me how meaningful and noble it is to serve. I spent my first two years teaching at St Mary's Indian Mission in Omak, becoming one of the pioneers of what later would be the Jesuit Lay Volunteers. I continued working in education for many years in Redwood City and in Chicago, teaching and serving minority students. I believe that all of my work experience since then has also been service to others.

Gonzaga also taught me to think. The desire and ability to think has informed every action and decision in my life and becomes in perspective more precious every day.

Life's highlights since graduation:

I spent senior year at Loyola of Chicago's center in Rome. I came back, finished my degree and graduated with the class of 1965. From 1965 through 1977, I taught in different locations. In 1971, I moved to Chicago to be with the many friends I had made in Rome. Those same friends and the new ones I made teaching remain as close today as when I was there.

When I moved back home to Seattle, I decided I badly needed a non-cerebral job. So I became a waitress in a pizza parlor! About as non-cerebral as they come. Several years later, I realized I could not walk up to another person and ask how I could be of help. I found a bookkeeping job at a dental clinic. No more dealing with the public --- I don't even have to answer the phone. It's been lovely! Nearly thirty years later, I am still working. I am blessed to be in good health, having survived both breast cancer and lung cancer. I am passionate about my friends, politics, GU basketball and any and all things Irish. I root for the underdog, still play the piano and abhor email. I have opinions on almost every subject and will offer them uninvited. I was able to purchase from the estate the house my mother and I lived in. Four years from now this house will celebrate a century. I am working slowly at restoring it and otherwise keeping it from becoming a tear-down prize for developers.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

Coming from Germany as a Fulbright student all was new and different; a tsunami of new impressions.

Among my best friends were Ron Johnson (62-63 roommate), Bill Edison (63-64 roommate), Scott Rice, Bill Klein, Buzz Stone, Mike Nyhan, Mike Berry, Mary Mannino (future wife).

Among my favorite classes were an applied mathematics course taught by a professor of the Chemical Engineering Dept., Franz Schneider (he was instrumental in having GU set up a two-year degree program for me), the chemical engineering professor, Dr. Stafford (physics).

Life's highlights since graduation:

After graduation in Jan. Mary Jean (Witmeyer) and I got teaching jobs in the LA City Schools, then on to Sacramento where there were lots of GU grads teaching. Met Mack in the Catholic Alumni Club there and we have been married 47 years. We have 3 sons and 5 grandchildren who all live in the SF Bay Area. Since retiring, I have volunteered at Holy Spirit Church "creating" the environment, worked with our parish adopted family, walked and prayed at our local abortion clinic, spent time at the State Capital trying to influence legislation protecting the life of the Mother and the Unborn. I thank the Lord for all He has given to me and pray He will care for our country during these trying times.

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

Gonzaga was the right place at the right time! So many wonderful teachers encouraging us to learn "that which would" enable us to make good choices in our lives. I never thought it would be the Truth of Philosophy staying with me all these years. I hardly understood it then. God bless the Class of '64

Memories of your life at Gonzaga:

Wonderful services and retreats at St. Al's. A cradle Catholic studying the Bible for the first time with Father Conwell. Philosophy classes with Father Leary. Fifty-five guys and five girls in pre-med and a priest who didn't think females belonged in the program. Great musical productions to enjoy. Volunteering at Eastern State Hospital. Traveling around campus only in pairs or groups because Ted Bundy was on the loose. Being able to call home long distance only once a month because it was so expensive. Worry about my family at home after the Great Alaskan Earthquake my senior year.

Something you learned at Gonzaga that you've carried with you throughout your life:

The good you can do by ministering to others when they are most vulnerable and in need of a friend, just by being there and listening.

Life's highlights since graduation:

High School Teacher's Certificate in Gonzaga's "fifth year" program. Taught English, speech, and drama at Homer (AK) High School.

A Fellowship from the State of AK allowed me to get a master's degree from Univ. of Oregon in Special Education for learning disabled and emotionally disturbed students. Taught at Edgefield Lodge in Gresham, OR while earning an Elementary Ed Certificate and at the Alaska Psychiatric Institute. Married and raised two boys while working as a resource teacher in the Anchorage public schools for a number of years. Mentored student teachers over those years and also worked as an adjunct in teacher training at both the bachelor's and master's degree level for Univ. of Alaska, Anchorage. Retired after 27 years, the last three as a Diagnostic Teacher for 3-9 year olds at Whaley Center as we explored appropriate educational settings for them. I loved that job! On weekends and vacations, worked as a licensed funeral director with my husband at our funeral homes. We spent a good deal of time with the support groups we sponsored; Compassionate Friends, Parents Reaching Out and Survivors of Suicide.

We were active in our parish and diocese (and still are). In 1990, we were honored to be installed in The Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem. We sold our business in 1992, and have been fortunate enough to have been able to travel extensively throughout this amazing world of ours.

Since I still love working with children and youth, I continue to substitute in our Catholic elementary and secondary schools - and, of course, spoil my grandchildren!
